Ways to learn	A	B	C	D
OUTDOOR LEARNING I enjoy hands on activities	Find some leaves or twigs. Can you arrange them in order of height? Can you use a ruler or tape measure to measure their length?	Ask a family member to take you for a walk in the woods, make some bark rubbings with some wax crayons of some trees you find interesting. Can you find out which tree your rubbing belongs to?	Flower and leaf printing - choose some flowers or leaves which you like the look of. Can you make a picture using different coloured paints and the items you've collected.	Have a go at making 2D shaped by tying together twigs with string! Or 3D shapes using marshmallows and cocktail sticks.
MATHS AND SCIENCE I enjoy working with numbers and science	Can you practice counting to 10, 20, 30 and 40. Can you put the numbers in order?	Look at the 5 Food Categories:  Now look in your fridge at home, can you sort the food in your fridge into the 5 different food groups?	Can you design a healthy meal and help an adult to cook it? SHARED LEARNING I enjoy working with others	Go with an adult to a shop. Can you count out the right amount of change to pay for the items you need? For an even greater challenge, can you pay in a round number and work out the change?	Ask someone older than you about stories they remember from when they were little, write about their story.	Share a pizza or a pancake with an adult. Can you cut your food in $\frac{1}{2}$? Can you touch it with your hands? Can you feed some to an adult?	With the help of the internet, research a traditional tale from around the world.
CREATIVE LEARNING I enjoy art and designing	Paint your favourite character from a traditional tale.	Make a collage of your favourite scene from a traditional tale.	Make a sun dial. Mark how the shadow moves as the sun moves across the sky. Best on a sunny day, you can use a super easy way to make one using a kitchen roll tube and a piece of cardboard, or	Make a mask of a character from a traditional tale - can you make it whilst thinking about how the character is feeling?
