

Planet of the Crystals

Planet of the Crystals is made out of shining orange, yellow, pink, green, red, blue and purple crystals as bright as the sun but as sharp as a knife. If you touch them you will regret it because they have powers. They can hypnotise you and will make you forget your name. Also people with ears and tails live there with a mark on their cheek, they are called Alphas. The top Alpha, Logan, found Planet of the Crystals in 2006 however there is a horrible, mean, selfish Alpha out there. The crystals shine in the day and glow in the night because the moon reflects on to them. It would take 8 weeks to get there and back but I warn you, don't touch the crystals. If you do want to go to this gargantuan, gorgeous, great place come and enjoy your lovely stay :)
